

Telangana government adopts 'gender sensitive' course

DECCAN CHRONICLE.

Published Jun 4, 2016, 12:38 am IST

Updated Jun 4, 2016, 12:38 am IST

The higher education department has started steps to introduce a gender sensitisation course: Towards a world of equals. Hyderabad: Students pursuing under-graduation in various degree colleges in TS will henceforth have to study a new subject. The higher education department has started steps to introduce a gender sensitisation course: Towards a world of equals. The course would be mandatory for all UG students (nearly 2.3 lakh) in over 1,000 colleges.

Courses such as B.Sc, B.Com, B.A etc. will have this subject in their second year. Union HRD minister Smriti Irani had launched this book in New Delhi while participating in a video conference with education officials of all states on Friday.

Tags: gender sensitisation course

Location: India, Telangana, Hyderabad